

Don't Let the Pigeon Break the Library Rules!

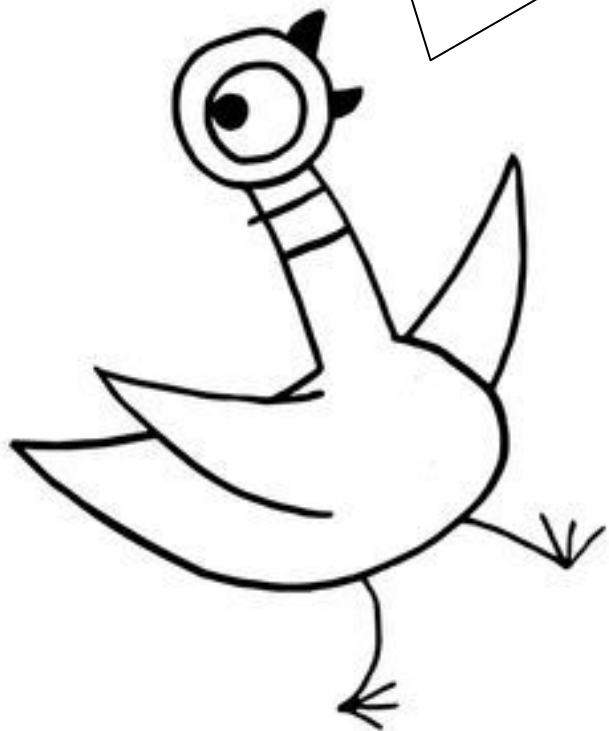

By

_____ 's Class

Let's be really loud!

PLEASE, can
we be really
LOUD?!

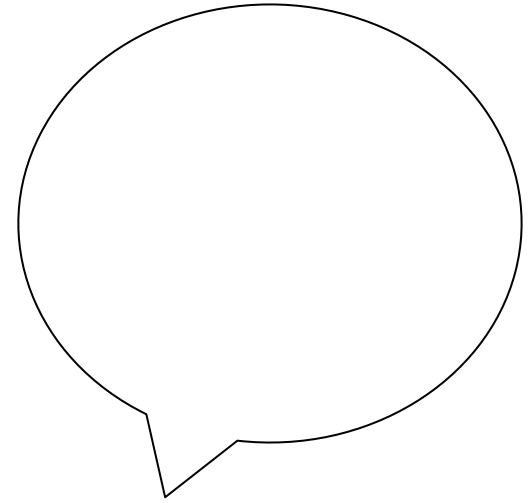

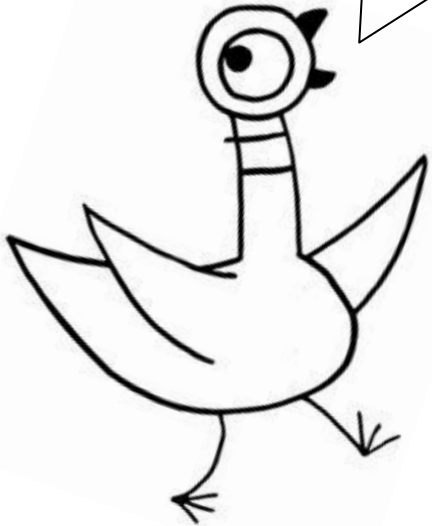

A simple line drawing of a character with a large, circular eye and a small, pointed ear. The character is positioned at the bottom left of the frame. A large, oval-shaped speech bubble is attached to the character's mouth, containing the text "Let's leave our books on the FLOOR!". To the right of the character, there is another empty, oval-shaped speech bubble.

Let's leave
our books on the FLOOR!

Let's run
to our tables!

PLEASE, can we run to our tables?!

Let's eat
with our library
books!

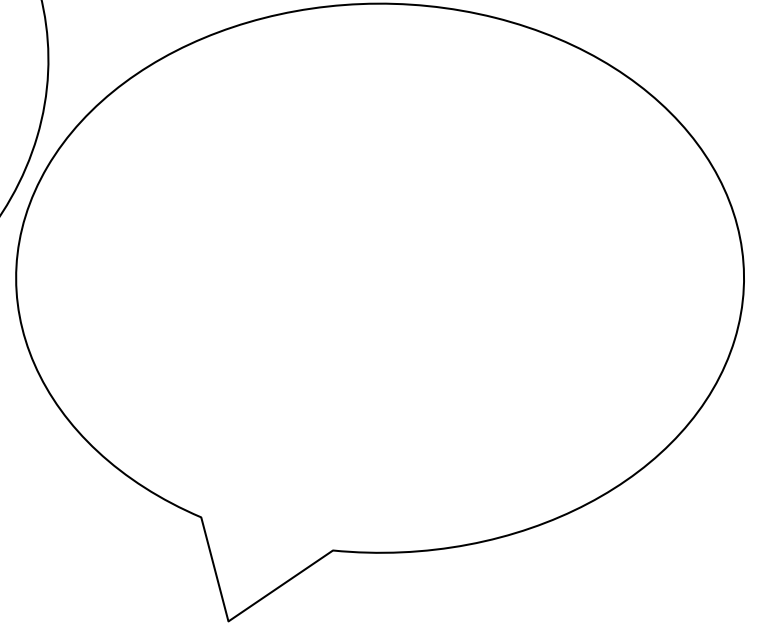

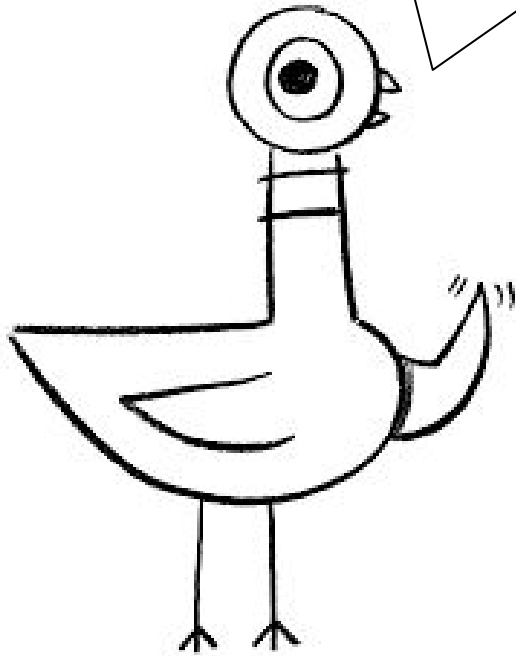

Let's
argue over
a book!

Let's leave
without permission!

Let's talk to each other during storytime!

Let's play
hide and seek!

Let's put the books back
in the wrong
place!

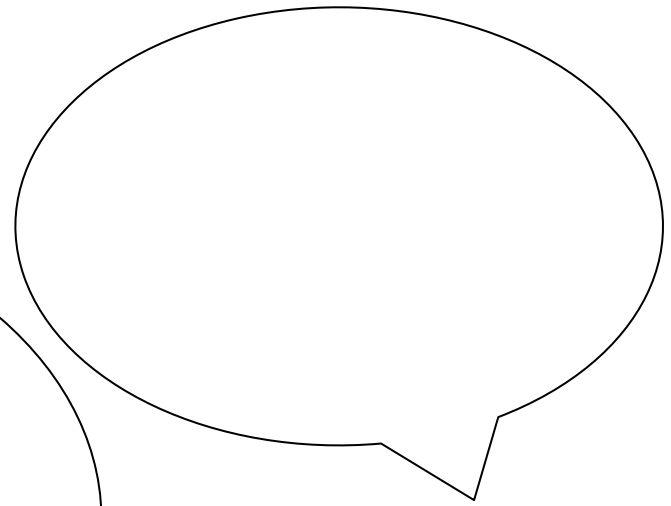

Let's break
the crayons!

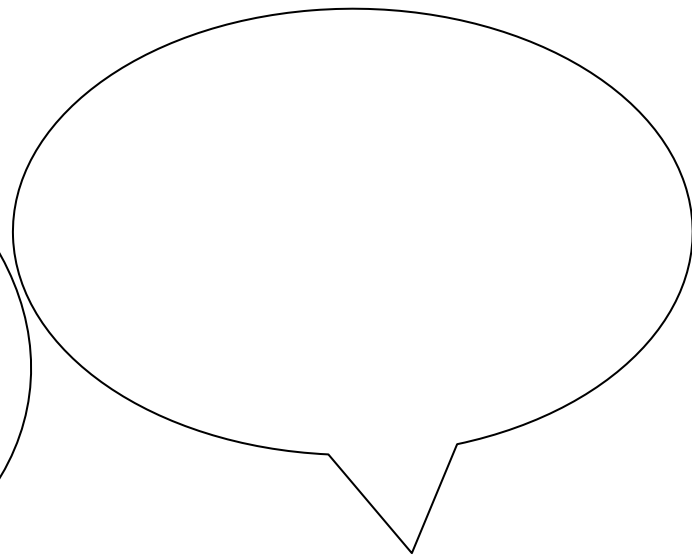

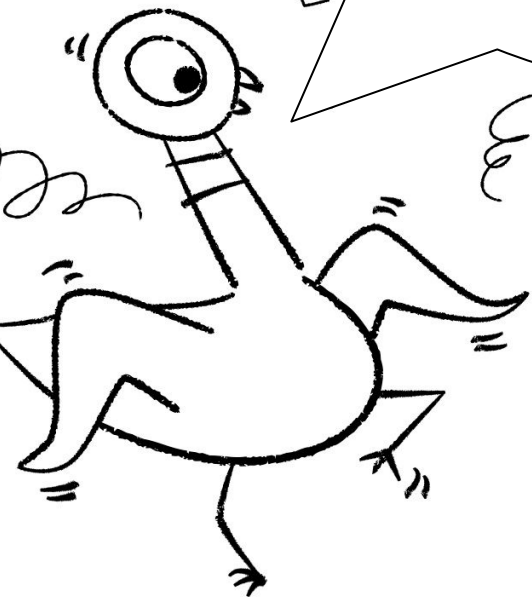

A simple line drawing of a character's head and neck. The head is a circle with a large, prominent eye in the center, consisting of a black pupil and a white iris. The neck is a vertical line with two horizontal rungs. A large speech bubble is attached to the top of the head.

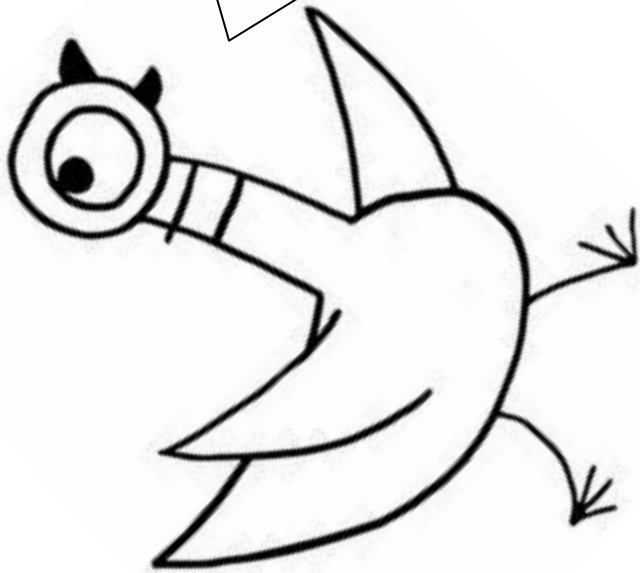

Let's talk
while our teacher is talking!

Let's play
with our toys
during
storytime!

Let's lie on the floor!

Let's NOT
share the eraser!

Let's leave a mess!

Let's leave
our chairs
out!

Let's throw trash on the floor!

Let's be silly
in line!

You guys
are NO
